About the 1440 Leadership Center

How we help you grow

THE 1440 LEADERSHIP CENTER is designed to help you build trusted relationships with your people and your organization, in order to inspire, motivate, and empower others.

By integrating classroom and experiential learning, contemplative practices, and group dialogue, the 1440 approach centers on three authentic leadership principles you can master and share with your organization:

- 1. The Self: Discovering how to become aware of one's own inner life, thought patterns, and shadow motivations.
- 2. Relationships: Understanding how to relate to others with greater compassion, empathy, and respect.
- 3. Lifestyle: Producing the energy, resilience, and focus needed to meet leadership challenges.

Through extensive life and professional experience our faculty live by the principles of authentic leadership. Now their purpose is to share what they've learned with you. Together you'll contemplate the complexity and challenges of organizations and leadership.

A growth experience through True North

AS THE CEO OF ENCOMPASS COMMUNITY SERVICES, the largest community-based nonprofit in Santa Cruz County that provides vital services to individuals and families who are in greatest need, Monica Martinez is focused daily on the health, wellness, and security of others. A leader who thrives on evidence-based, outcome-driven strategies, Monica was one of 60 participants in a recent True North Leadership workshop, which she applied for in part to explore leading a more integrated life. The results, which she details in a thank-you letter to the True North faculty below, are some that she continues to foster in her daily work and personal life.

I just wanted to take a moment to thank you for the opportunity to attend the True North Leadership program last week. My experience in the program was priceless. The insights that I gained while carving out the time to be introspective, connect with others, and be present in a beautiful location will make a lasting impression on my life. Thank you.

Since leaving 1440 on Friday, I have continued to be energized by the possibilities of living a more integrated life. I have been putting this work in to practice over the last several days and I thought I'd share a story from this week: My one-on-one with Scott [Kriens] inspired me to take a different approach to my monthly leadership meeting (about 60 attendees). Instead of opening the meeting with my regular report, I decided to authentically share about how the challenges of my personal journey led to my deeply held values of dignity, resiliency, and human potential. I then threaded those values through the agenda of the two-hour meeting. Following the meeting, I received zero feedback (positive or negative) from others, so I just thought "that wasn't so bad, but I'm not sure it made a difference." However, the following day one of my executive-level direct reports, a woman who prides herself on being private and unemotional, deeply confided in me about her professional fears and insecurities. Another manager approached me for the first time and asked for leadership advice on building her team. And a manager who had submitted her resignation hours before the leadership meeting to accept a higher-paying job offer in another city chose to retract her resignation and stay at Encompass. I can't be certain that these things happened as a direct result of my vulnerability at the leadership meeting, but I do suspect it played a role. In this case, it seems like 'being the first to dance' worked.

So again, thank you for the opportunity to continue growing. I'd love to deepen my learning and stay connected to True North Leadership and 1440 however possible. If there are opportunities to do so, please keep me in mind. You have created something very special.

With gratitude,

Monica Martinez

Curated Leadership Programs

Enrich yourself and your workplace

THE 1440 LEADERSHIP CENTER offers both customized programs for your group along with curricula that address today's leadership challenges and opportunities. Sample Leadership Center workshop programs include:

Critical Conversations for the Authentic Leader with Larry Dressler, Gayle Ober, MNM & Scott Kriens

Gain actionable methods for approaching conflict and closing the gaps that block your team from success. Led by Larry Dressler, conversation expert and facilitator, and Gayle Ober, president of the George Family Foundation, this curriculum is built from over a decade of conflict coaching with thousands of clients and embedded with Authentic Leadership principles and practices.

During this immersive program, which includes a special session with Scott Kriens, 1440 co-creator and former CEO of Juniper Networks, participants will gain practical skills for navigating conflict in all relationships, increase capacity and tolerance for the robust dialogues necessary for teams and organizations to thrive, learn internal practices to manage responses and reactions during difficult conversations, and recognize their approach to critical conversations through the concepts of authentic leadership.

Disrupting Workplace Bias: A Workshop for Modern Leaders with Michelle Maldonado

As leaders, we all have biases, expressing them often without any awareness of their presence or impact on our behaviors and decision-making. In this transformative weekend, leadership expert Michelle Maldonado provides conventional and contemplative tools for mitigating bias, cultivating presence, and creating inclusive, high-performance work environments.

Develop an action plan to temper the devastating effect of bias and create a working environment that serves all in maximizing their full potential. Participants will maximize their ability to disrupt and counter biases at work by learning the impact of workplace and institutional bias and what you can do about it; the neuroscience of bias, including impactful research and numbers that can't be ignored; the consequences of microaggressions and the role of intersectionality; conventional and contemplative tools and practices for disrupting or reducing unconscious bias; and ways to create cultural competency and promote psychological safety across your team and organization.

Please email Leadership.Center@1440.org to learn more about custom leadership programs for your group.

Kitchen Table: The heart of sustenance

ALL GUESTS ON CAMPUS GATHER IN KITCHEN TABLE – the grand dining space on campus – for breakfast, lunch, and dinner to enjoy freshly prepared seasonal meals that include savory soups, delicious simple-fare options, hearty main courses, and sweet desserts at dinnertime. Kitchen Table was built to hold 450 guests at a time for each meal period – seating has been modified both indoors and outdoors to accommodate plenty of personal space for safe social distancing.

A wood-burning fireplace warmly welcomes guests at the entrance to Kitchen Table, and once inside, a variety of dining stations offer dishes topped with organic ingredients and garnishes from Joanie’s Garden on campus, plated and served by the 1440 Multiversity culinary team. Guests then choose a table in the expansive indoor dining area or al fresco overlooking the redwoods.

The 1440 Multiversity culinary team – led by Executive Chef Kenny Woods – enjoys a creative approach to seasonal dining with colorful aromatic ingredients that inspire its cuisine. Each week the 1440 Multiversity campus forager procures the freshest products from local growers, and chefs use their harvests to create wholesome, flavorful meals. The nearby Salinas Valley and city of Watsonville are known as the “Salad Bowl of the World” for the abundant produce they grow, pack, and ship across the nation and abroad, and 1440 is blessed to source directly from them.

The menu offerings at 1440 Multiversity were established with the notion that nutrition is a critical component for physical and emotional health and healing. With that in mind, the 1440 Multiversity culinary team operates mindfully and with a “Food is Medicine” approach, and the team and the guests it serves takes comfort in seeing and knowing where these ingredients originate from.

Menus at 1440 vary daily, with gluten-free and vegan options at every meal. All produce is sourced from within a 300-mile radius and often paired with organic meats and seafood from partners dedicated to sustainable and humane practices. From simple fare to wholesome favorites, the 1440 Multiversity culinary team personally plates each meal to preserve freshness – it is their pleasure to surprise guests every day with cuisine that is as innovative as it is nourishing.
